Warren Lumberjacks vs. Monticello Billies

GAME PREVIEW

October 25, 2013

The Lumberjacks are entering what is undoubtedly the most crucial week of their entire season thus far, getting set to take on the Hamburg Lions Friday, November 1 in Hamburg. The 8-4A Conference Championship is on the line. Both teams are 5-0 in conference play and somebody has to win this ball game.

Warren is coming off of a 42-0 drumming of Monticello last week in the Union Bank and Trust Saline River Shootout. It was sloppy at times, but the Jacks got the job done.

Crossett on the other hand struggled to put away Crossett last week in the Ashley County Bowl. The Lions won by the score of 27-22.

The Lumberjacks are hoping to eliminate the turnovers and get their offense back to smooth production. Running Back Kilay Cox was unable to get many carries against Monticello last week after seemingly aggravating a leg injury. He is looking to be back on the field this week in full force. His backup, sophomore Trent Broughton, is looking more like an All-State running back right now than someone who is technically second on the depth chart. Along with help from an improving offensive line is becoming something that no one expected this season, a dominant tail back. He has stepped in at a time of need and shown extreme ability to move north with the football and chip five to 15 yards out with no problem. Warren superb running game is opening up even more opportunities through the air. Darveon Brown, Von Eric Gonder, and Kaleel Thomas are all finding space and connecting regularly with QB Drake Jones. Short yardage situations are setting up scenarios for out route after out route. The real surprise has to be the play of WR Jaylon Marshall. Last Friday against Monticello Marshall had two of the best catches you will likely ever see on a high school football field. He has established himself as a major threat to any secondary, which continues to open up even more space for other receivers and the running game.

The Lumberjack defense kept the shutout against Monticello last week and are playing at the top of their game at the moment. Mickel Towler and the rest of the defensive line look unstoppable at times. Aaron Church continues to improve and LaFoy Smith is just a nightmare for most teams. That defensive line and linebacking group will be tested this Friday as Hamburg brings a powerful running game.

The Lions will be the most organized team the Jacks have faced since Star City. Other than occasionally getting a bit pass happy, Hamburg will try and find weaknesses on the Warren front line.

Defensively Hamburg's secondary isn't bad, but they to will be tested against a plethora of offensive weapons the Jacks bring to the ball game.
